INDEX TO VOLUME CXXXIV.

Abbott, A. C. The influence of acute alcoholism on the normal resistance of rabbits to various forms of infection, 623; the significance of pathogenic spirilla in American surface waters, 624.

Abbot, S. L. Coexistence of two zymotic diseases in the same patient, one being latent, while the other is patent, 289.

Abbott, S. W. Recent progress in public hygiene, 216, 238.

Abortion. Notes of cases of criminal abortion, Draper, F. W., 429; abortion socially, medically and medico-legally considered, Cushing, E. W., 566.

Abscesses. Operation for multiple abscesses of the internal organs, 299.

Accident neurosis, 297.

Achillodynia, 270.

Acland, H. W. Of more value than political pronunciamentos, 125.

Adams, Z. B. Sudden death, congenital stenosis of the pulmonary valves, 112.

Adenoid vegetations, Sherman, F. M., 438.

Advancement of medicine by research, Bowditch, H. P., 577, 605.

Afghanistan. A medical woman in Afghanistan, 377.

Albumin. A domestic test for albuminous urine, Truax, J. G., 67.

Alcoholism. The influence of acute alcoholism on the normal resistance of rabbits to various forms of infection, Abbott, A. C., 623.

Allen, G. W. Genito-urinary cases, 612, 620.

Allen, H. Some novel methods of description of the human skull, 117.

Anatomy. The duty of the medical profession to civilization and to science, Dwight, T., 114; anatomical material and its preservation, 114; a contribution to the myology of lemur bruneus, Huntington, G. S., 115; history of the ciliary muscle, Baker, F., 115; absence of the fibrous pericardium of the left side, Hewson, A., 116; the descriptive anatomy of the human heart, Keiller, W., 116; nomenclature of nerve cells, Baker, F., 117; the cerebral fissures of two philosophers, Wilder, B. G., 117; the human par-occipital fissure, should it be recognized and so designated? Wilder, B. G., 117; some novel methods of description of the human skull, Allen, H., 117; practical histology for large classes, Minot, C. S., 118; observations on the fossa capitis and a tubercle in the trochanteric fossa, Brockway, F. J., 118; a case of polyorchis, Lamb, D. S., 118; cases of unilateral kidney, true and false, Dwight, T., 172; a case of cervical rib, with operation, Warren, J. C., 258; an unpublished anatomical treatise of the fourteenth century, 473; recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 534.

Anesthesia. Recent advances in the methods of local anesthesia, Lund, F. B., 134, 144; a report of surgical operations in the hospitals of Boston and vicinity where anesthesia was produced with ether or chloroform combined with oxygen gas, Dellart, I. N., 387; the use of oxygen in preventing or overcoming the after-effects of ether in surgical operations, Morrison, W. A., 389.

Anthrax. Treatment of anthrax in rabbits by intravenous injections of nucleinic acid, Vaughan, V. C., McIntosh, C. T., and Perkins, G. D., 625.

Antiphthisin. An investigation of antiphthisin, 23.

Antisepsis of the gastro-intestinal canal, 22.

Antitoxin. The strength of various diphtheria antitoxins, 426; antitoxin of diphtheria in London, 450; results of the use of antitoxin for immunization against diphtheria at the Children's Hospital during the past four months, Morrill, F. G., 512; diphtheria antitoxin sometimes found in the blood of horses that have not been injected with toxines, Bolton, B. M., 624; diphtheria antitoxin obtained by electrolysis, Bolton, B. M., and Pease, H. D., 624.

Antrum. Empyema of the antrum, Carr, W., 69; empyema of the antrum of Highmore, Cobb, F. C., 455, 466.

Appendix attached to right Fallopian tube, Baker, W. H., 363.

Army. Completion of the first series of "The Index Catalogue," 71.

Arsenic. Arsenic in dental fillings, Rollins, W. H., 75.

Atwood, C. A. A case of laryngeal diphtheria; tracheotomy, recovery, 416.

Aulde, J. The abortive treatment of typhoid fever, 15.

Australia as a summer resort, Robertson, S., 250.

Autopsies, 271.

Ayer, J. B. Senile pneumonia, 305, 320.

Ayres, D. A review of the treatment and results in nine cases of fracture of the neck of the femur, 93.

Babcock, R. H. Some considerations with regard to the senile heart, 15.

Bacteriology. The typhoid bacillus and suppuration, Muir, R., 51; the practice of medicine in the light of bacteriological researches, Smith, A. A., 68; micrococcus Brisou, a contribution to the study of diphtheria, Roeth, A. G., 83; preliminary description of the staphylococcus aureus liquefaciens, Ernst, H. C., 493; a statistical and experimental study of terminal infections, Flexner, S., 622; upon the identity of the streptococci and a description of a new variety, Ernst, H. C., 623; conditions influencing the appearance of toxine in the cultures of the bacillus of diphtheria, Smith, T., 624.

Bailey, P. Two cases of tumor of the spinal cord unaccompanied with severe pain, 146; a contribution to the study of acute ascending (Landry's) paralysis, with exhibition of specimens stained by the Nissl method, 443.

Bake-Houses. The sanitary condition of bake-houses, 200.

Baker, F. History of the ciliary muscle, 115; nomenclature of nerve cells, 117.

Baker, W. H. Cancer of cervix complicated with pregnancy at three months, 264; appendix attached to right Fallopian tube, 363; hematoma of ovary, 461; submucous fibroid of uterus, occasioning hemorrhage in a woman of sixty-four years, 533.

Ball, J. M. Artificial ripening of cataract, 16.

Bandiera, G. Dr. Maragliano's anti-tuberculous serum, 10.

Barker, J. M. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 617.

Barss, J. K. A case of glanders in the human subject, 385.

Baths. A model public bathing establishment, 152.

Beri-Beri in the Fiji Islands, 630.

Bibliography. Allis, O. H., an inquiry into the difficulties encountered in the reduction of dislocation of the hip, 625; Army, annual report of the Surgeon-General of the army, 151; Ashby, H., the diseases of children, medical and surgical, 422; Ashhurst, John, Jr., the international enclycopædia of surgery, 321; Beck, C., manual of surgical asepsis, 348; Bell, J., notes on surgery for nurses, 245; Brothers, A., infantile mortality during child-birth and its prevention, 626; Byford, H. T., manual of gynecology, 373; Chapman, H. C., a manual of medical jurisprudence and toxicology, 422; Claiborne, J. H., the functional examination of the eye, 321; Clark, A., Hadley, W. J., and Chaplin, A., fibroid diseases of the lung including fibroid phthisis, 149; Cocke, J. R., hypnotism, how it is done, its uses and dangers, 398; Da Costa, J. M., medical diagnosis with special reference to practical medicine, 398; Dennis, F. S., system of surgery, 296, 396; Dercum, F. X., a text-book on nervous diseases, 544; Duhring, L. A., cutaneous medicine, 468; Durante, F., trattato di patologia e terapia chirurgica generale e speciale, 398; Eccles, A. S., the practice of massage, 398; Foster, M. A., text-book of physiology, 121; Fuller, E., diseases of the male sexual organs, 397; Fullerton, A. M., a handbook of obstetric nursing for nurses students and mothers, 21; Gould, G. M., the American year-book of medicine and surgery, 269; Gowers, W. R., clinical lectures on diseases of the nervous system, 397; Grandin, E. H., and Jarman, G. W., pregnancy, labor and the puerperal state, 626; Haab, O., an atlas of ophthalmoscopy with an introduction to the use of the ophthalmoscope, 398; Harvard College, annual report of, 1894-95, 247; Helferich, H., atlas of traumatic fractures and luxations, 396; Herrick, J. B., a handbook of medical diagnosis for students, 494; Houston, E. J., and Kennelly, A. E., electricity in electro-therapeutics, 625; Hyde, J. N., and Montgomery, F. H., a manual of syphilis and the venereal diseases, 467; index catalogue, 71; index medicus, 127; Jakob, C., an atlas of the normal and pathological nervous systems, 569; Jennings, J. E., color-vision and color-blindness, 422; Keen, W. W., and White, J. W., an American text-book of surgery for practitioners and students, 396; Keith, G. S., a plea for a simpler life, 422; Knies, M., relations of diseases of the eye to general diseases, 397; Kocher, T., text-book of operative surgery, 269; Lejars, F., leçons de chirurgie, 349; Loomis, A. L., a text-book of practical medicine, 397; Luff, A. P., text-book of forensic medicine and toxicology, 21; Manley, T., local anæsthetics and cocaine analgæsia, their uses and limitations, 121; Martin, S., functional and organic diseases of the stomach, 445; Moulin, C. W. M., surgery, a practical treatise with special reference to treatment, 421; Massachusetts lunacy and charity report, 199; Massachusetts State Board of Health, twenty-sixth annual report, 46; medical news, 26; Monro, T. K., a history of the chronic degenerative diseases of the central nervous system, 296; Morris, H., diseases and injuries of the genital and urinary organs, 297; Morris, R. T., lectures on appendicitis and notes on other subjects, 373; national formulary, 494; Navy, report of the Surgeon-General United States Navy, 175; Neale, R., the medical digest or busy practitioners' vade-mecum, 269; Norris, R. C., an American text-book of obstetrics, 120; Osler, W., the principles and practice of medicine, 373; Pedley, R. D., the diseases of children's teeth, their prevention and treatment, 421; Polaillon, statistique and observations de chirurgie hospitalière, 221, affections chirurgicales des membres, 372; Rachford, B. K., some physiological factors of the neuroses of childhood, 421; Rotch, T. M., and Burrell, H. L., medical and surgical report of the Children's Hospital, 1869-1894, 318; Schweinitz, G. E. de, the toxic amblyopias, their symptoms, pathology and treatment, 570; Senn, N., the pathology and surgical treatment of tumors, 270, principles of surgery, 420; Starr, M. A., atlas of nerve cells, 420; Stedman, T. L., twentieth century of practice, 269; Sternberg, G. M., immunity, protective inoculations in infectious diseases and serum-therapy, 296; Stimson, L. A., and Rogers, J., Jr., a manual of operative surgery, 420; Thibata, K., obstetrical pocket-phantom, 270; Tyson, J., a guide to the practical examination of urine, 597; Treves, F., a system of surgery, 421; Van Harlingen, A., handbook of the diagnosis and treatment of skin diseases, 467; Walker, G. A., students' aid in ophthalmology, 421; Wassermann, M., épithelióme primitif de l'urethre, 569; Watson Cheyne, W., the treatment of wounds, ulcers and abscesses, 372; Witthaus, R. A., and Becker, T. C., medical jurisprudence, forensic medicine and toxicology, 422; Yearbook of treatment for 1896, 398.

Bicycle. Cycling for women, 27; harmful effects of the bicycle upon the girl's pelvis, 400; babies, bicycles and legislation, 570; an English surgeon on the bicycle saddle, Roper, A. C., 574.

Bile. An experimental investigation of the human biliary secretion and of the influence of so-called cholagogues upon it, Pfaff, F., 372.

Billings, F. Intercostal neuralgia, 15.

Billroth's advice to a young man intending to study medicine, 630.

Biography. Barber, I. H., 177; Bogart, S. V. R., 98; Burnham, A. C., 604; Cock, T. F., 628; Cogswell, G. B., 280; Copeland, G. W., 476; Corson, H., 304; Crane, J. S., 354; Cupples, J. E., 401; Cushman, T. T., 180; Damrell, C. L., 401; Dover, T., 226; Drake, D., 17; Dunbar, E. F., 228, 355; Fenwick, K. N., 156; Forster, E. J., 521, 550, 573; Frost, C. P., 552; Goss, O., 404; Harmon, S. T., 180; Hodges, R. M., 180, 202, 203; Hough, T. L., 629; Hunt, W., 452; Hunter, A. S., 201; Johnson, A. H., 500, 522; Johnson, G., 632; Kelley, G. W., 552; McLaughlin, W. T. J., 177; Mandeville, D. K., 302; Mapes, J. J., 425; Martin, A. D. W., 304; Maxon, E. H., 25; Newell, R. W., 404; Paul, M. C., 476; Pray, I. F., 449; Randall, G. H., 100; Reeves, J. E., 76; Reynolds, J. R., 576; Rich, J. B., 252; Ripley, J. H., 225; Robinson, J., 201; Robinson, J. L., 632; Robinson, W. S., 604; Rohlfs, G., 604; Roosevelt, J. W., 402; Salmon, W. R., 524; Sappey, 356; Sée, G., 552; Semmola, M., 452; Slade, D. D., 204, 474; Stetson, J., 228; Stevens, F. D. S., 180; Taylor, J. B., 653; Terillon, 100; Van Kleek, R. L., 25; Vulliet, 380; Wadsworth, A. C., 25; Ward, G. W., 100; Warren, R. S., 204; Weil, F. E., 52; Wigglesworth, E., 125, 126, 128, 425; Wyman, S. E., 500.

Bishop. An unusual entanglement of the umbilical cord, 278.

Blech, G. Medicinal treatment of typhoid fever, 15.

Blodgett, A. N. Dextrocardia with transposition of abdominal viscera, 213.

Blood. A study of the blood in cases of tuberculosis of the bones and joints, Dane, J., 529, 559, 589.

Blue blood corpuscle, 302.

Bolton, B. M. Diphtheria antitoxin sometimes found in the blood of horses that have not been injected with toxines, 624.

Bolton, B. M., and Pease, H. D. Diphtheria antitoxin obtained by electrolysis, 624.

Bone. Sub-tendinous exostosis, Brackett, E. G., 41, 43.

Booth, J. A. Graves's disease, operation, 541.

Boston. The public institutions of Boston, 72; public institutions, Dwight, E. W., 481, 505.

Bowditch, H. P. Photographs of hemoglobin bands (Gamgee), 245; the advancement of medicine by research, 577, 605.

Bowditch, V. Y. A plea for moderation in our statement regarding the contagiousness of pulmonary consumption, 637.

Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 363, 392.

Boyd, W. C. Septicemia following gonorrhea, 214.

Brackett, E. G. Sub-tendinous exostosis, 41, 43.

Bradford, E. H. School desks, 9, 20; slipping patella, 186.

Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G. Recent progress in orthopedic surgery, 290, 317, 341.

Breast. Causation and treatment of mammary abscess, 598.

Brinton, J. H. Military surgery in the sixteenth century, 378.

Brockway, F. J. Observations on the fossa capitis and a tubercle in the trochanteric fossa, 118.

Bromides. Certain effects of bromo-intoxication, Mitchell, S. W., 650.

Broughton. Shadowgraphs by the Röntgen process, 618.

Brown, O. J. A case of stab-wound of the pulmonary artery, 345.

Burrage, W. L. Notes on operations on the ovaries and tubes through a vaginal incision into the posterior cul-de-sac, 108, 120.

Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Recent progress in surgery, 462, 487, 513.

Cabot, A. T. Observations upon acquired hydronephrosis, 405, 419.

Cabot, R. C. The myelocyte of Ehrlich, 4.

Cæsarean Section. Report of a case, Haven, G., 436, 441.

Cancer. The early diagnosis of uterine cancer, 399.

Carr, W. Empyema of the antrum, 69.

Carriage. The horseless carriage, Steinway, W., 354.

Carter, H. The life insurance companies and bovine tuberculosis, 472.

Castration. A case of castration for enlarged prostate and retention of urine, Homans, J., 289.

Cataract. Artificial ripening of cataract, 16; complications in cataract arising from diabetes, albuminuria, etc., Stillson, J. O., 16; suture after cataract extraction, Williams, C. H., 383.

Cemeteries. Effect of cemeteries upon health, 223.

Chadwick, J. R. Medical libraries, their development and use, 101.

Chaput. A new anastomosis button, 226.

Cheever, D. W. Surgical morals, 281.

Chemistry. Bio-chemistry in its relation to nervous diseases, McCaskey, G. W., 16; German enterprise in the field of chemistry, 75.

Child murder and baby farming, 550.

Chlorosis with especial reference to its treatment by intestinal antisepsis, Townsend, C. W., 528, 538.

Cholera. Haffkine's vaccination against cholera, 23.

Chyluria. A case of parasitic chyluria, with filariæ sanguinis hominis nocturnæ in the blood, Henry, F. P., 648.

Circulatory System. Some considerations with regard to the senile heart, Babcock, R. H., 15; the vaso-motor nerves of the heart, Porter, W. T., 39; the vaso-motor nerves of the heart, 47; sudden death, congenital stenosis of the pulmonary valves, Adams, Z. B., 112; dextrocardia with transposition of abdominal viscera, Blodgett, A. N., 213; photographs of hemoglobin bands (Gamgee), Bowditch, H. P., 245; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 260; hypostatic pneumonia due primarily to a congenitally small heart, Knight, F. I., 316; theobromine in cardiac and renal diseases, 351; the Nauheim-Schott treatment of heart disease, 374; varices of the esophagus, Friedrich, 378; fibrous bands crossing the aorta, Kretz, 403; a study of the blood in cases of tuberculosis of the bones and joints, Dane, J., 529, 559, 589; on the application of the Röntgen rays to arterio-sclerosis, 550; gymnastics in heart diseases, Enebuske, C. J., 610, 618, 633; a case of parasitic chyluria, with filariæ sanguinis hominis nocturnæ in the blood, Henry, F. P., 648.

Cline, L. C. Laryngitis from a rhinological standpoint, 17.

Cobb, F. C. Empyema of the antrum of Highmore, 455.

Cocaine. Two interesting conditions associated with the taking of cocaine, Sharp, L., 12.

Codman, E. A. Radiograph of fetal arm, 327; a reversed radiograph, 450; an important improvement in radiography, 522.

Coggeshall, F. A clinical test of some of the so-called organic extracts, 60, 66; the treatment of severe spasmodic torticollis, with report of cases, 211, 220.

Coley, W. B. The indications of non-operative local treatment; the therapeutic value of toxins, 92.

Collins, J. Specimen showing multiple growths in the brain of a child, 149.

Color testing, Williams, C. H., 1, 18.

Colorado. The invalid's life in Colorado, Edson, C. F., 279; the climatic treatment of phthisis in Colorado, Moore, H. B., 361.

Columbia University. The Columbia University dedication, 471.

Comparative medicine and comparative pathology, 425.

Connecticut physicians and the registration laws, 426.

Consumption. Treatment of pulmonary consumption, Shurly, E. L., 15; a plea for moderation in our statement regarding the contagiousness of pulmonary consumption, Bowditch, V. Y., 637.

Convulsions. Cases of convulsions of doubtful etiology, Jackson, H., 335, 346.

Cottrell, S. P. Anterior colpotomy, 285, 294.

Courtney, J. W. Some observations on medical topics in fiction, 655.

Creosote. The therapeutics of oleo-creosote and creosote carbonate, Wessinger, J. A., 18.

Cretinism. A study of sporadic cretinism, Noyes, W. B., 442; a case of cretinism, Peterson, F., 540.

Crime. Criminology in New York, 72; the coming rôle of the medical profession on the scientific treatment of crime and criminals, Flint, A., Jr., 92; the criminal, his social and legal status and the philosophy of reformation, 93.

Crosby homicide, Croston, J. F., 332.

Croston, J. F. The Crosby homicide, 332.

Cryptoscope, Salvioni, 250.

Cumston, C. G. Lumbar nephrectomy in anuria due to uterine cancer, 286, 293; a study on the surgical treatment of perforation of gastric ulcers, 407, 419.

Cushing, E. W. Vaginal hysterectomy for pyo-salpinx and for uterine myomata, 77, 87; sterilizer, 295; fibroid tumors, 295; abortion socially, medically and medico-legally considered, 566.

Cutaneous System. The prevalence of germ dermatoses, White, J. C., 36; report of a case of pemphigus foliaceus, Hastings, J. W., 229; eruptions simulating scarlatina, 350; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 363, 392; scleroderma, Fisher, E. D., 368.

Dane, J. A study of the blood in cases of tuberculosis of the bones and joints, 529, 559, 589.

Danforth, I. N. Notes on the treatment of pernicious and other forms of essential anemia, 649.

Davenport, F. H. Some observations on malignant diseases of the uterus, 253, 264.

De Hart, I. N. A report of surgical operations in the hospitals of Boston and vicinity where anesthesia was produced with ether or chloroform combined with oxygen gas, 387.

Dench, E. B. The treatment of acute inflammations of the middle ear and mastoid process, 16; general suggestions regarding the diagnosis and treatment of acute aural inflammation, 69.

Dennis, F. S. The value of subsequent constitutional treatment, and of long surveillance of every patient after the operation for tumors, 91.

Denny, C. P. Dermoid cyst complicating pregnancy, 461.

Dentistry. Arsenic in dental fillings, Rollins, W. H., 75; dental caries and tubercular cervical adenitis, Starck, 278.

Desks. School desks, Bradford, E. H., 9, 20.

Diabetes. A brief contribution to the therapeutics of diabetes, White, J. B., 93.

Digestive System. Diseases of the mouth, nose and throat, as etiological factors in chronic glandular gastritis, with bacteriologic studies of the pharyngeal vault, Turck, F. B., 16; hemorrhoids, prolapsed rectum; a new operation, Ricketts, B. M., 17; on antisepsis of the gastro-intestinal canal, 22; three cases of lateral anastomosis by means of the Murphy button, Richardson, M. H., 34, 43; physiological antiperistalsis, 50; foreign bodies in the esophagus, Silver, H. M., 90; a case of carcinoma ventriculi, with the continued presence of free hydrochloric acid, and the absence of lactic acid, Stockton, C. G., 90; gastro-succorrhea continua chronica, Einhorn, M., 90; the technique of Maunsell's method of intestinal anastomosis, Wiggin, F. H., 93; the liver of dyspeptics, 150; strangulated congenital inguinal hernia complicated with inflammation of the appendix vermiformis contained in the sac, Knowles, J. H., 215; a new anastomosis button, Chaput, 226; some general observations on rectal diseases, Stedman, J. C., 310; laparotomy and intestinal suture for perforating ulcer during typhoid fever; recovery, Watson, F. S., 317; hour-glass stomach due to cicatrization of gastric ulcer, Watson, F. S., 338, 347; appendix attached to right Fallopian tube, Baker, W. H., 363; varices of the esophagus, Friedrich, 378; a study on the surgical treatment of perforation of gastric ulcers, Cumston, C. G., 407, 419; perforating ulcer of the duodenum, Warren, J. C., 460; imperforate rectum, Higgins, F. A., 485, 492; the diagnosis and treatment of dilatation of the stomach, Pepper, W., and Stengel, A., 648.

Diller, T. The psychical influences which operate in retarding or preventing recovery in traumatic nervous affections, 474.
Diphtheria. Recent studies on diphtheria and pseudo-diphtheria, Park, W. H., 68; micrococcus Brisou, a contribution to the study of diphtheria, Roeth, A. G., 83; the mortality from diphtheria in France, Monod, H., 99; the antitoxin treatment of diphtheria at the Boston City Hospital, McCollom, J. H., 178; antitoxin of diphtheria in Tokio, Nakagawa, A., 354; sympathetic nerve symptoms, with ulnar paralysis following diphtheria, Sachs, B., 369; contagious pneumonia is diphtheria, Thayer, W. H., 379; a case of laryngeal diphtheria: tracheotomy, recovery, Atwood, C. A., 416; antitoxin of diphtheria in London, 450; results of the use of antitoxin for immunization against diphtheria at the Children's Hospital during the past four months, Morrill, F. G., 512; conditions influencing the appearance of toxine in the cultures of the bacilli of diphtheria, Smith, T., 624; diphtheria antitoxin sometimes found in the blood of horses that have not been injected with toxines, Bolton, B. M., 624.
Dispensary. A medical clinic at the Boston Dispensary, Greenleaf, R. W., 381, 394, 411.
Doctors beginning to make their influence felt, 427.
Dover. Thomas Dover, physician and buccaneer, 226.
Drake, Daniel, or then and now, Pepper, W., 17.
Draper, F. W. The Gilbert murder trial, 157, 171; recent progress in legal medicine, 190; notes of cases of criminal abortion, 429.
Dry rot. The cause of much sickness that is often overlooked, Robb, W. H., 68.
Dunham, E. K. The metastasis of tumors, 91.
Durgin, S. H. One year's experience in the medical inspection of schools and the supervision over the isolation and release of infected persons, 360, 366.
Dwight, E. W. Boston's public institutions, 481, 505.
Dwight, T. The duty of the medical profession to civilization and to science, 114; cases of unilateral kidney, true and false, 172; recent progress in anatomy, 534.
Ear. The treatment of acute inflammations of the middle ear and mastoid process, Dench, E. B., 16; general suggestions regarding the diagnosis and treatment of acute aural inflammation, Dench, E. B., 69; brain complications of ear disease, Swasey, E., 357.
Edes, R. T. Exophthalmic goitre treated with animal extracts, and especially extract of thymus, 82.
Editorials. On antisepsis of the gastro-intestinal canal, 22; Haffkine's vaccination against cholera, 23; an investigation of "antiphthisin," 23; the Harvard medical faculty vote to require a degree for admission, 46; the Massachusetts health report, 46; the vaso-motor nerves of the heart, 47; recent contributions to renal surgery, 70; completion of the first series of "the index-catalogue," 71; the public institutions of Boston, 72; criminology in New York, 72; a new course of lectures, 73; lumbar puncture, 93, 122; a model example of municipal sanitary administration, 95; expectoration in public conveyances, 96; the authority of local boards of health over public institutions, 123; the liver of dyspeptics, 150; annual report of the Surgeon-General of the army, 151; a model public bathing establishment, 152; x-rays, 174; report of the Surgeon-General United States Navy, 175; rare anomalies of the phalanges shown by the Röntgen process, 198; the Massachusetts lunacy and charity report, 199; the sanitary condition of bake-houses, 200; therapeutic uses of the glycero-phosphates, 222; effect of cemeteries upon health, 223; a proposed act relating to vivisection, 223; the mental element in therapeutics, 245; annual report of Harvard College, 1894-95, 247; a hearing on vivisection, 248; achillodynia, 270; traumatic intraeranial hemorrhage, 271; the legal aspect of autopsies, 272; accident neuroses, 297; operation for multiple abscesses of the internal organs, 299; the treatment of erysipelas by antistreptococcic serum, comparative results of other treatments, 322; regulations governing the Twelfth International Medical Congress, 323; sanitary condition of public schools, 324; vegetarianism and vivisection, 324; "privileged communications" to professional men, 349; eruptions simulating scarlatina, 350; theobromine in cardiac and renal diseases, 351; a bill to prohibit vivisection or dissection in New York public schools, 351; the Nauheim-Schott treatment of heart disease, 374; the treatment of surgical tuberculosis in children by iodoform injections, 375; the early diagnosis of uterine cancer, 399; harmful effects of the bicycle upon the girl's pelvis, 400; the registration of physicians and surgeons in Massachusetts, 401; comparative medicine and comparative pathology, 423; pulmonary tuberculosis in the aged, 423; school hygiene, 446; a notable demonstration of the x-rays, 447; neuron degeneration, 469; puerperal fever and sero-therapy, 470; the Columbia University dedication, 471; a hundred years of vaccination, 494; the vaginal douche before labor, 496; asthenic bulbar paralysis, 518; the summer hospital for infants, 520; the prevention of tuberculosis, 546; the Massachusetts State Board of Health and infectious diseases, 547; babies, bicycles and legislation, 570; origin and history of disease-names, 571; causation and treatment of mammary abscess, 598; inconsistent legislation, 599; anti-vivisection in the District of Columbia, 626; the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 627; physical training in the Boston public schools, 651; the contagion of phthisis in the hospitals, 652.
Education. The Harvard Medical Faculty vote to require a degree for admission, 46; a new course of lectures, 73; the Harvard summer school of physical training, Sargent, D. A., 181, 192; the proposed requirements for admission to the Harvard Medical School, Ellis, F. W., 231; annual report of Harvard College, 1894-95, 247.
Edson, C. E. The invalid's life in Colorado, 279.
Ehrlich. The myelocyte of Ehrlich, Cabot, R. C., 4.
Einhorn, M. Gastro-succorrhea continua chronica, 90.
Eliot, C. W. The physician's relation to society, 250.
Ellis, F. W. The proposed requirements for admission to the Harvard Medical School, 231.
Enebuske, C. J. Gymnastics in heart diseases, 610, 618, 633.
Engelmann, G. J. Vaginal hysterectomy, 79, 87.
Enuresis in children, Williams, H., 256.
Ernst, H. C. Preliminary description of the staphylococcus aureus liquefaciens, 493; upon the identity of the streptococci and a description of a new variety, 623.
Eruptions simulating scarlatina, 350.
Erysipelas. The treatment of erysipelas by antistreptococcic serum, comparative results of other treatments, 322.
Esophagus. Foreign bodies in the esophagus, Silver, H. M., 90; varices of the esophagus, Friedrich, 378.
Expectoration in public conveyances, 96.
Eye. Color testing, Williams, C. H., 1, 18; recent progress in ophthalmology, Standish, M., 12; artificial ripening of cataract, Ball, J. M., 16; complications in cataract arising from diabetes, albuminuria, etc., Stillson, J. O., 16; the emergency treatment in acute diseases of, and injuries to, the eye, Weeks, J. E., 67; analysis of eight hundred cases of astigmatism with regard to the direction of the principal axes, Kilburn, H. W., 188; a working model of the eye with elastic lens, Fitz, G. W., 245; suture after cataract extraction, Williams, C. H., 383.
Farlow, J. W. Demonstration of models, 467; light anesthesia in the removal of adenoid vegetations, 475.
Fiction. Some observations on medical topics in fiction, Courtney, J. W., 655.
Fisher, E. D. Scleroderma, 368.
Fitz, G. W. A leg apparatus for spastic and paralytic cases, 240; a working model of the eye with elastic lens, 245.
Flexner, S. A statistical and experimental study of terminal infections, 622.
Flint, A. The coming rôle of the medical profession in the scientific treatment of crime and criminals, 92.
Flint, A., Jr. Observations on the minor degrees of contracted pelvis, 92.
Flood, E. Five cases of pseudo-hypertrophic paralysis (?) in one family, 564.
Forster, E. J. A unique case of laceration of the cervix, 119.
Fractures. Another case of fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause, Monks, G. H., 40, 42; a review of the treatment and results in nine cases of fracture of the neck of the femur, Ayres, D., 93; a case of fracture of the upper end of the humerus just below the tuberosities, with dislocation of the head of the bone into the axilla, Monks, G. H., 138, 143; another case of spiral fracture of the humerus from torsion, McNaught, F. H., 139; a case of fracture of the astragalus with dislocation inward, successful reduction by incision and displacement of tendons, Warren, J. C., 391.
Fraud. Quis custodiet? Stone, A. K., 251; warning against a fraud, M.D., 251.
Friedrich. Varices of the esophagus, 378.
Frothingham, L. An apparently new form of tuberculosis, 173.
Futterer, G. The direct cause of tuberculosis, 15.
Garceau, E. A case of peritonismus, 139; a case of pelvic cellulitis with abscess; miscarriage, pyemia, celiotomy, death, 260.
Gardiner, E. G. The centrosome as a permanent organ of the cell, 493.
Generative System. A case of spontaneous rupture of the uterus, Reynolds, E., 62, 69; vaginal hysterectomy for pyo-salpinx and for uterine myomata, Cushing, E. W., 77, 87; vaginal hysterectomy, Englemann, G. J., 79, 87; vaginal hysterectomy for pyo-salpinx and for uterine myomata, Irish, J. C., 82, 87; discussion on vaginal hysterectomy for pyo-salpinx and uterine myomata, 87; observations on the minor degrees of contracted pelvis, Flint, A., Jr., 92; the results obtained by examination of the air-distended bladder in females, with some remarks upon the technique and a summarized report of cases, Reynolds, E., 104, 119; notes on operations on the ovaries and tubes through a vaginal incision into the posterior cul-de-sac, Burrage, W. L., 108, 120; a unique case of laceration of the cervix, Forster, E. J., 119; two cases of laparotomy, Johnson, F. W., 189; septicemia following gonorrhea, Boyd, W. C., 214; some observations on malignant disease of the uterus, Davenport, F. H., 253, 264; a case of pelvic cellulitis with abscess, miscarriage, pyemia, celiotomy, death, Garceau, E., 260; cancer of cervix complicated with pregnancy at three months, Baker, W. H., 264; the ultimate results, in my own experience, of vaginal hysterectomy for cancer originating in the cervix uteri, Janvrin, J. E., 267; anterior colpotomy, Cottrell, S. P., 285, 294; lumbar nephrectomy in anuria due to uterine cancer, Cumston, C. G., 286, 293; a case of castration for enlarged prostate and retention of urine, Homans, J., 289; appendix attached to right Fallopian tube, Baker, W. H., 363; the early diagnosis of uterine cancer, 399; harmful effects of the bicycle upon the girl's pelvis, 400; hematoma of ovary, Baker, W. H., 461; submucous fibroid of uterus occasioning hemorrhage in a woman of sixty-four years, Baker, W. H., 533; genito-urinary cases, Allen, G. W., 612, 620.
German enterprise in the field of chemistry, 75.
Gersuny. A successful operation for sterility, 302.
Gilbert murder trial, Draper, F. W., 157; the defendant's mental condition, Jelly, G. F., 161; the microscope as a witness, Whitney, W. F., 165, 171.
Glanders. A case of glanders in the human subject, Barss, J. R., 385.
Glycero-phosphates. Therapeutic uses of the glycero-phosphates, 222.
Goitre. Exophthalmic goitre treated with animal extracts and especially extract of thymus, Edes, R. T., 82; discussion of the nature and the treatment of exophthalmic goitre with special reference to the thyroid theory and the question of thyroidectomy, 541.
Goldthwait, J. E. Tendon transplantation in the treatment of paralytic deformities, 29, 42; anatomical specimens, 192.
Gouley, J. W. S. The early detection and prompt ablation of tumors, 91.
Gowers. Empirical therapeutics, 629.
Graves's disease, operation, Booth, J. A., 541.
Greenleaf, R. W. A medical clinic at the Boston Dispensary, 381, 394, 411.
Grutzner. Physiological antiperistalsis, 50.
Guernsey. Small-pox and vaccination in Guernsey, Robinson, E. L., 574.
Gymnastics in heart diseases, Enebuske, C. J., 610, 618, 633.
Gynecology. Report on progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 416; 439.
Haffkine. Vaccination against cholera, 23.

Haig's uric acid theory, Van Pelt, G. W., 129.
Hair. The effect of music on the growth of the hair, 154.
Hall, J. N. Sugar as a muscle food, 127.
Hamilton, L. A medical woman in Afghanistan, 377.
Hammond, G. M. Progressive muscular atrophy, 145; Jacksonian epilepsy, operation, 145.
Harvard University. The Harvard Medical Faculty vote to require a degree for admission, 46; a new course of lectures, 73; the Harvard summer school of physical training, Sargent, D. A., 181, 192; the proposed requirements for admission to the Harvard Medical School, Ellis, F. W., 231; annual report of Harvard College, 1894-95, 247; Harvard University begins suit against a Chicago Institution, 654.
Hastings, J. W. Report of a case of pemphigus foliaceus, 229.
Haven, G. Report of a case of Cæsarean section, 436, 441.
Hemmeter, J. C. Photography of the human stomach by the Röntgen method, a suggestion, 609.
Hemorrhoids, prolapsed rectum, a new operation, Ricketts, B. M., 17.
Henshaw, G. B. The treatment of typhoid fever with typhoid thymus extract, 477.
Henry, F. P. A case of parasitic chyluria, with filariæ sanguinis hominis nocturnæ in the blood, 648.
Hernia. Strangulated congenital inguinal hernia complicated with inflammation of the appendix vermiformis contained in the sac, Knowles, J. H., 215.
Herter, C. A. Discussion on the differentiation of skin and muscle sensations as a means of diagnosis, 370.
Hewson, A. Absence of the fibrous pericardium of the left side, 116.
Higgins, F. A. Imperforate rectum, 485, 492.
Hills, F. L. Some experiments upon the relation of uric acid to disease, 282, 307.
Hirsch. Paresthesia of the external cutaneous nerve, 146.
Homans, J. A case of castration for enlarged prostate and retention of urine, 289.
Homicide. Homicide without external marks of evidence, Presbrey, S. D., 329, 342.
Hospitals. The summer hospitals for infants, 520.
Howard, H. B. The State Almshouse during twelve years of medical superintendence, 237, 241.
Humerus. Resection of the head of the humerus for old irreducible dislocation, Monks, G. H., 437.
Huntington, G. S. A contribution to the myology of lemur bruneus, 115.
Hydronephrosis. Observations upon acquired hydronephrosis, Cabot, A. T., 405;
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. Massachusetts State Board of Health: twenty-sixth annual report, 46; a model example of municipal sanitary administration, 95; expectoration in public conveyances, 96; the authority of local boards of health over public institutions, 123; recent progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 216, 238; effect of cemeteries upon health, 223; sanitary condition of public schools, 324; school hygiene, 446; school hygiene, Pearmain, A. U., 522; the Massachusetts State Board of Health and infectious diseases, 547; meteorological conditions and public health, Robinson, DeL. W., 635.
Hysteria. Diagnosis of hysteria, Patrick, H. T., 17.
Infants. Some statistics on weight of infants, sex and fetal heart-rates, Townsend, C. W., 484, 493.
Infection. One year's experience in the medical inspection of schools and the supervision over the isolation and release of infected persons, Durgin, S. H., 360, 366.
Instruments and Apparatus. A shielded chromic acid applicator, Young, H. D., 87; a device for taking spinal tracings, Young, E. B., 170; a new anastomosis button, Chaput, 226; a leg apparatus for spastic and paralytic cases, Fitz, G. W., 240; an aseptic nail-cleaner for surgeons and physicians, Stedman, J. C., 263; sterilizer, Cushing, E. W., 295.
International Medical Congress. Regulations governing the Twelfth International Medical Congress, 322.
Invalid's life in Colorado, Edson, C. E., 279.
Irish, J. C. Vaginal hysterectomy for pyo-salpinx and for uterine myomata, 82, 87.
Jackson, H. Cases of convulsions of doubtful etiology, 335, 346.
Jacobi, A. President's address before the Association of American Physicians, 433.
Janvrin, J. E. The ultimate results, in my own experience, of vaginal hysterectomy for cancer originating in the cervix uteri, 267.
Jefferson, T. Acknowledgment of Jenner, 601.
Jelly, G. F. The Gilbert murder trial, the defendant's mental condition, 161, 171.
Johnson, F. W. Two cases of laparotomy, 189.
Kaan, G. W. A case of abdominal pregnancy, 438.
Keen, W. W. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 617.
Keiller, W. The descriptive anatomy of the human heart, 116.
Kilburn, H. W. Analysis of eight hundred cases of astigmatism with regard to the direction of the principal axes, 188.
Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in neurology, 84, 112.
Knight, F. I. Hypostatic pneumonia due primarily to a congenitally small heart, 316.
Knowles, J. H. Strangulated congenital inguinal hernia complicated with inflammation of the appendix vermiformis contained in the sac, 215.
Kretz. Fibrous bands crossing the aorta, 403.
Lamb, D. S. A case of polyorchis, 118.
Lancet. The founding of the Lancet, 277.
Laparotomy. Two cases of laparotomy, Johnson, F. W., 189; laparotomy and intestinal suture for perforating ulcer during typhoid fever; recovery, Watson, F. S., 317.
Laryngitis from a rhinological standpoint, Cline, L. C., 17.
Lawrence, W. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 616.
Lecky. Mr. Lecky's tribute to the medical profession, 629.
Legal Medicine. The Gilbert murder trial, Draper, F. W., 157; the defendant's mental condition, Jelly, G. F., 161; the microscope as a witness, Whitney, W. F., 165, 171; recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 190; the Gilbert murder trial: corrections, 203; homicide without external marks of violence, Presbrey, S. D., 329, 342; the Crosby homicide, Croston, J. F., 332; report of the Leeman murder, Paine, A. E., 334; a case of stab-wound of the pulmonary artery, Brown, O. J., 345; notes of cases of criminal abortion, Draper, F. W., 429; remarks on the probable effect of expert testimony in prolonging the duration of traumatic neuroses, Prince, M., 433; abortion socially, medically and medico-legally considered, Cushing, E. W., 566.
Legislation. Some proposed medical legislation in Massachusetts, 226; inconsistent legislation, 599.
Leidy memorial fellowship in anatomy, 128.
Leszynsky, W. M. Anomalous case of multiple neuritis, 540.
Leucomain-poisoning, Rachford, B. K., 621; a toxicogenic germ found in ice cream and its chemical products, Vaughan, V. C., and Perkins, G. D., 622.
Leucocythemia. A case of leucocythemia, Musser, J. H., 649.
Libel. An action for libel against the British Medical Journal, 305.
Libraries. Medical libraries, their development and use, Chadwick, J. R., 101.
Life. Mental vigor and long life, 278.
Liver of dyspeptics, 150.
Locke, F. S. Artificial fluids as uninjurious as possible to animal tissues, 175.
Lothrop, H. A. Accidental suffocation while swallowing a piece of meat, 415.
Lund, F. B. Recent advances in the methods of local anesthesia, 134, 144.
Lusk, Z. J. A new and original method of obtaining material for skin-grafting, 92.
McCaskey, G. W. Bio-chemistry in its relation to nervous diseases, 16.
McCollom, J. H. The antitoxin treatment of diphtheria at the Boston City Hospital, 178.
McCosh. Case of sternal dislocation of second and third costal cartilages and of clavicle with fracture of the fourth and fifth cartilages, 327.
MacIntyre, J. Demonstration of the Röntgen rays, 149.
McNaught, F. H. Another case of spiral fracture of the humerus from torsion, 139.
Maher, J. J. E. Cases of atresia and of stenosis vaginalis in the non-pregnant and pregnant states, with one hundred tabulated cases in labor, 91.
Malaria. Clinical notes on malaria, Morse, J. L., 63; quinine in malaria, Williams, F. H., 126.
Maragliano. Dr. Maragliano's anti-tuberculous serum, Bandiera, G., 10.
Marmorek. Puerperal fever and sero-therapy, 479.
Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, 154.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Dr. Maragliano's anti-tuberculous serum, Bandiera, G., 10; two interesting conditions associated with the taking of cocaine, Sharp, L., 12; new light on the role which iron plays in the physiological economy: how and where does the hemoglobin come from? Porter, W. H., 15; yeast nuclein and its therapeutic uses, Vaughn, V. C., 17; the therapeutics of oleo-creosote and creosote carbonate, Wessinger, J. A., 18; antisepsis of the gastro-intestinal canal, 22; an investigation of antiphthisin, 23; sugar and water as an oxytocic, Tracy, E. A., 27; a case of tetanus following abortion, treated by antitoxin, recovery; Withington, C. F., 53; a clinical test of some of the so-called organic extracts, Coggeshall, F., 60, 66; exophthalmic goitre treated with animal extracts and especially with extract of thymus, Edes, R. T., 82; a brief contribution to the therapeutics of diabetes, White, J. B., 93; certain chemical compounds obtained by the union of phenol derivatives with the isomerides and polymerides of camphor, Schaefer, T. W., 110; quinine in malaria, Williams, F. H., 126; sugar as a muscle food, Hall, J. N., 127; recent advances in the methods of local anesthesia, Lund, F. B., 134, 144; mixing local anesthetics with their physiological antidotes, Rollins, W. H., 155; the antitoxin treatment of diphtheria at the Boston City Hospital, McCollom, J. H., 178; therapeutic uses of the glycero-phosphates, 222; the mental element in therapeutics, 245; theobromine in cardiac and renal diseases, 351; antitoxin of diphtheria in Tokio, Nakagawa, A., 354; an experimental investigation of the human biliary secretion and of the influence of so-called cholagogues upon it, Pfaff, F., 372; the Nauheim-Schott treatment of heart disease, 374; the treatment of surgical tuberculosis in children by iodoform injections, 375; a report of surgical operations in the hospitals of Boston and vicinity where anesthesia was produced with ether or chloroform combined with oxygen gas, DeHart, I. N., 387; the use of oxygen in preventing or overcoming the after-effects of ether in surgical operations, Morrison, W. A., 389; the strength of various diphtheria antitoxins, 426; results of the use of antitoxin for immunization against diphtheria at the Children's Hospital during the past four months, Morrill, F. G., 512; report on therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 593; Dr. Gowers on empirical therapeutics, 629; a readily assimilated and non-irritating preparation of iron, Williams, C. E., 639.
Matignon, J. J. Chinese methods of predicting the sex before birth, 50.
Mays, T. J. Ice-cold applications in acute pneumonia, 475.
Medical Legislation. Some proposed medical legislation in Massachusetts, 226.
"Medical News." Removal to New York, 26; Dr. George M. Gould retires from the Medical News, 50.
Mental vigor and long life, 278.
Meyer, Wilhelm, memorial, 475.
Microscopy. Some of the more recent methods of staining nerve tissue, Patrick, H. T., 14.
Military surgery in the sixteenth century, 378.
Milk. The home modification of milk, Morse, J. L., 557; cane-sugar for milk-sugar in modified milk, Perry, A. P., 631.
Milliken, S. E. A clinical report on orthopedic surgery, 67.
Mind. Massachusetts Lunacy and Charity report, 190; mental vigor and long life, 278; the relations of mind and body, Schofield, 463; a case of acromegaly with autopsy, tumor of pituitary body, Worcester, W. L., 413; a case of paranoia unrecognized for twenty-eight years, and its lesson, Runge, E. C., 553, 585; the determining of sanity by jury trial, 603; report on mental disease, Stedman, H. R., 645.

Minot, C. S. Practical histology for large classes, 118.
Mitchell, S. W. Certain effects of bromo-intoxication, 650.
Mixter, S. J. Tumors of the parotid in faucial region, 137, 143.
Monks, G. H. Another case of fracture of the humerus from an unusual cause, 40, 42; a case of fracture of the upper end of the humerus just below the tuberosities with dislocation of the head of the bone into the axilla, 138, 143; plastic operation of Tagliacozzi for the correction of a deformed nose, 143; resection of the head of the humerus for old irreducible dislocation, 437; a plastic operation on the nose, by Tagliacozzi's method, 643.
Monod, H. The mortality from diphtheria in France, 99.
Moore, H. B. The climatic treatment of phthisis in Colorado, 361.
Morals. Surgical morals, Cheever, D. W., 281.
Morrill, F. G. Results of the use of antitoxin for immunization against diphtheria at the Children's Hospital during the past four months, 512.
Morrison, W. A. The use of oxygen in preventing or overcoming the after-effects of ether in surgical operations, 389.
Morse, J. L. Clinical notes on malaria, 63; typhoid fever in childhood with an analysis of two hundred and eighty-four cases, 205, 218; a report of two cases of infantile scurvy, 340, 345; the home modification of milk, 557.
Mountain climbers and the perception of distance, Stanley, H. M., 179.
Muir, R. The typhoid bacillus and suppuration, 51.
Munro, J. C. Anatomical specimens, 618.
Murphy Button. Three cases of lateral anastomosis by means of the Murphy button, Richardson, M. H., 34, 43.
Murphy, E. F. Tubal pregnancy complicated by an inguinal hernia, 592.
Music. The effect of music on the hair, 154.
Musser, J. H. A case of leucocythemia, 649.
Myelocyte of Ehrlich, Cabot, R. C., 4.
Nail-Cleaner. An aseptic nail-cleaner for surgeons and physicians, Stedman, J. C., 263.
Nakagawa, A. Antitoxin of diphtheria in Tokio, 354.
Nauheim-Schott treatment of heart disease, 374.
Navy. Report of the surgeon-general United States Navy, 175.
Nervous System. Some of the more recent methods of staining nerve tissue, Patrick, H. T., 14; intercostal neuralgia, Billings, F., 15; bio-chemistry in its relation to nervous diseases, McCaskey, G. W., 16; diagnosis of hysteria, Patrick, H. T., 17; the vaso-motor nerves of the heart, Porter, W. T., 39; the vaso-motor nerves of the heart, 47; a case of tetanus following abortion, treated by antitoxin; recovery, Withington, C. F., 53, 69; two cases of tumor of the brain, with autopsy, Taylor, E. W., 57, 64; recent progress in neurology, Knapp, P. C., 84, 112; lumbar puncture, 93, 122; progressive muscular atrophy, Hammond, G. M., 145; Jacksonian epilepsy, operation, Hammond, G. M., 145; Raynaud's disease, Wiener, A., 146; paresthesia of the external cutaneous nerve, 146; two cases of tumor of the spinal cord unaccompanied with severe pain, Bailey, P., 146; specimen showing multiple growths in the brain of a child, Collins, J., 149; achillodynia, 270; traumatic intracranial hemorrhage, 270; accident neuroses, 297; cases of convulsions of doubtful etiology, Jackson, H., 335, 346; brain complications of ear disease, Swasey, E., 357; scleroderma, Fisher, E. D., 368; sympathetic nerve symptoms with ulnar paralysis following diphtheria, Sachs, B., 369; discussion on the differentiation of skin and muscle sensations as a means of diagnosis, Herter, C. A., 370; remarks on the probable effect of expert testimony in prolonging the duration of traumatic neuroses, Prince, M., 433; a study of sporadic cretinism, Noyes, W. B., 442; a contribution to the study of acute ascending (Landry's) paralysis with exhibition of specimens stained by the Nissl method, Bailey, P., 443; neuron degeneration, 469; the psychical influences which operate in retarding or preventing recovery in traumatic nervous affections, 474; asthenic bulbar paralysis, 518; anomalous case of multiple neuritis, Leszynsky, W. M., 540; tumor of the cerebellum, Peterson, F., 541; two cases of central brain disease, Woodward, S. B., 561; five cases of pseudo-hypertrophic paralysis (?) in one family, Flood, E., 564.
New York. Criminology in New York, 72.
Nichols, J. H. Report of cases of small-pox at the State almshouse, Tewksbury, in the spring of 1894, 234, 244.
Nomenclature. Origin and history of disease-names, 571.
Nose. Plastic operation of Tagliacozzi for the correction of a deformed nose, 143; a plastic operation on the nose, by Tagliacozzi's method, Monks, G. H., 643.
Noyes, W. B. A case of sporadic cretinism, 442.
Obstetrics. Recent progress in obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 140.
Occiput left posterior, Wheat, A. F., 614.
Ohio State Medical Society and anti-vivisection legislation, 654.
Organic Extracts. A clinical test of some of the so-called organic extracts, Coggeshall, F., 60, 66; exophthalmic goitre treated with animal extracts and especially extract of thymus, Edes, R. T., 82
Orthopraxy. Tendon transplantation in the treatment of paralytic deformities, Goldthwait, J. E., 29, 42; a clinical report on orthopedic surgery, Milliken, S. E., 67; recent progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 289, 317, 341.
Otis, E. O. The value of respiratory gymnastics in maintaining the integrity of the lungs, and as an aid in the treatment of diseases of these organs, 525, 537.
Paddock, F. K. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 615.
Paine, A. E. Report of the Leeman murder, 334.
Painter, H. McM. The present status of obstetrics, 67.
Paranoia. A case of paranoia unrecognized for twenty-eight years, and its lesson, Runge, E. C., 553, 585.
Park, W. H. Recent studies on diphtheria and pseudo-diphtheria, 68.
Parker, W. T. Accidents from equestrianism, 127; should the State treat tuberculosis, 427.
Parotid. Tumors of parotid in faucial region, Mixter, S. J., 137, 143.
Patella. Slipping patella, Bradford, E. H., 186.
Pathology. Recent progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 168.
Patrick, H. T. Some of the more recent methods of staining nerve tissue, 14; diagnosis of hysteria, 17.
Pearmain, A. U. School hygiene, 522.
Pemphigus. Report of a case of pemphigus foliaceus, Hastings, J. W., 229.
Penny-in-the-slot doctor, 573.
Pepper, W. Daniel Drake; or, then and now, 17.
Pepper, W., and Stengel, A. The diagnosis and treatment of dilatation of the stomach, 648.
Peritonismus. A case of peritonismus, Garceau, E., 139.
Perry, A. P. A case of septicemia from sewer-gas, 533; cane-sugar for milk-sugar in modified milk, 631.
Peterson, F. A case of cretinism, 540; tumor of the cerebellum, 541.
Petri. Effect of cemeteries upon health, 223.
Pfaff, F. An experimental investigation of the human biliary secretion and of the influence of so-called cholagogues upon it, 372.
Pharynx. Diseases of the mouth, nose and throat as etiological factors in chronic glandular gastritis with bacteriological studies of the pharyngeal vault, Turck, F. B., 16; tumors of the parotid in faucial region, Mixter, S. J., 137, 143.
Physical training in the Boston public schools, 651.
Physician's relation to society, Eliot, C. W., 250.
Phthisis. The climatic treatment of phthisis in Colorado, Moore, H. B., 361; the contagion of phthisis in the hospitals, 652.
Pneumonia. Senile pneumonia, Ayer, J. B., 305, 320; hypostatic pneumonia due primarily to a congenitally small heart, Knight, F. I., 316; ice-cold applications in acute pneumonia, Mays, T. J., 475.
Poisons. Remarkable death of a medical practitioner, 201.
Porter, W. H. New light on the role which iron plays in the physiological economy; how and where does the hemoglobin come from? 15.
Porter, W. T. The vaso-motor nerves of the heart, 39.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. Sugar and water as an oxytocic, Tracy, E. A., 27; Chinese methods of predicting the sex before birth, 50; a case of tetanus following abortion treated by antitoxin, recovery, Withington, C. F., 53, 69; a case of spontaneous rupture of the uterus, Reynolds, E., 62, 69; the present status of obstetrics, Painter, H. McM., 67; cases of atresia and of stenosis vaginalis in the non-pregnant and pregnant states, with one hundred tabulated cases in labor, Maher, J. J. E., 91; a unique case of laceration of the cervix, Forster, E. J., 119; cancer of cervix uteri, with pregnancy at three months, Baker, W. H., 264; an unusual entanglement of the umbilical cord, Bishop, 278; report of a case of Cæsarean section, Haven, G., 436, 441; abdominal pregnancy, Kaan, G. W., 438; dermoid cyst complicating pregnancy, Denny, C. P., 461; puerperal fever and sero-therapy, 470; the vaginal douche before labor, 496; remarks on the treatment of placenta previa with especial reference to the use of the intra-uterine tampon after delivery, Townsend, C. W., 591, 596; tubal pregnancy complicated by an inguinal hernia, Murphy, E. F., 592: occiput left posterior, Wheat, A. F., 614.
Presbrey, S. D. Homicide without external marks of violence, 329, 342.
Prince, M. Remarks on the probable effect of expert testimony in prolonging the duration of traumatic neuroses, 433.
"Privileged communications" to professional men, 349.
Ptosis. The treatment of abdominal ptosis by laparotomy, Treves, F., 178.
Puerperal fever and sero-therapy, Marmorek, 470.
Quincy, J. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 616.
Rachford, B. K. Leucomain poisoning, 621.
Recent Progress. Ophthalmology, Standish, M., 12; neurology, Knapp, P. C., 84, 112; obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 140; pathology, Wright, J. H., 168; legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 190; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 216, 238; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 260; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 290, 317 341; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 363, 392; gynecology, Reynolds, E., 416, 439; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 462, 487, 513; anatomy, Dwight, T., 531; therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 593; mental disease, Stedman, H. R., 645.
Rectum. Some observations on rectal diseases, Stedman, J. C., 310.
Registration. Registration of physicians and surgeons in Massachusetts, 401; Connecticut physicians and the registration laws (as to births), 426.
Renal Surgery. Recent contributions to renal surgery, 70.
Respiratory System. Laryngitis from a rhinological standpoint, Cline, L. C., 17; a coin for five and a half years in a man's bronchus, 202; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 260; senile pneumonia, Ayer, J. B., 305, 320; hypostatic pneumonia due primarily to a congenitally small heart, Knight, F. I., 316; the climatic treatment of phthisis in Colorado, Moore, H. B., 361; contagious pneumonia is diphtheria, Thayer, W. H., 379; accidental suffocation while swallowing a piece of meat, 415; a case of laryngeal diphtheria, tracheotomy, recovery, Atwood, C. A., 416; pulmonary tuberculosis in the aged, 423; the value of respiratory gymnastics in maintaining the integrity of the lungs and as an aid in the treatment of diseases of these organs, Otis, E. O., 525, 537; a plea for moderation in our statement regarding the contagiousness of pulmonary consumption, Bowditch, V. Y., 637; the contagion of phthisis in the hospitals, 652.
Reynolds, E. A case of spontaneous rupture of the uterus, 62, 69; the results obtained by examination of the air-distended bladder in females, with some remarks upon the technique and a summarized report of cases, 104, 119; report on progress in gynecology, 416, 439; a case of sacculated bladder, 434, 441.
Rib. A case of cervical rib, with operation, Warren, J. C., 258.
Richardson, M. H. Three cases of lateral anastomosis by means of the Murphy button, 34, 43.
Ricketts, B. M. Hemorrhoids, prolapsed rectum; a new operation, 17.
Robb, W. H. The cause of much sickness that is often overlooked, 68.
Robertson, S. Australia as a summer resort, 250.
Robinson, DeL. W. Meteorological conditions and public health, 535.
Robinson, E. L. Small-pox and vaccination in Guernsey, 574.
Rollins, W. H. Arsenic in dental fillings, 75; mixing local anesthetics with their physiological antidotes, 155.

Roeth, A. G. Micrococcus Brisou, a contribution to the study of diphtheria, 83.
Rontgen. X-rays, 174; rare anomalies of the phalanges shown by the Röntgen process, 198; the cryptoscope, Salvioni, 275; recent progress in Röntgen photography, 326; radiograph of fetal arm, Codman, E. A., 327; a notable demonstration of the x-rays, 447; demonstration of the Röntgen rays, MacIntyre, J., 449; a reversed radiograph, 450; note on x-rays, Williams, F. H., 451; an important improvement in radiography, Codman, E. A., 522; on the application of the Röntgen rays to the diagnosis of arterio-sclerosis, 550; photography of the human stomach by the Röntgen method, a suggestion, Hemmeter, J. C., 609; shadowgraphs, Broughton, 618; the x-rays in the diagnosis of chest troubles with an exhibition of a fluorescope, Williams, F. H., 621.
Roper, A. C. An English surgeon on the bicycle saddle, 574.
Rowland, S. Recent progress in Röntgen photography, 326.
Runge, E. C. A case of paranoia unrecognized for twenty-eight years, and its lesson, 553, 585.
Sachs, B. Sympathetic nerve symptoms with ulnar paralysis following diphtheria, 369.
Salvioni. The cryptoscope, 250.
Sargeant, D. A. The Harvard summer school of physical training, 181, 192.
Scapula. A case of total excision of the scapula for sarcoma, Warren, J. C., 511.
Scarlatina. Eruptions simulating scarlatina, 350.
Schaefer, T. W. Certain chemical compounds obtained by the union of phenol-derivatives with the isomerides and polymerides of camphor, 110.
Schofield. The relations of mind and body, 403.
Schools. School desks, Bradford, E. A., 9, 20; sanitary condition of public schools, 324; one year's experience in the medical inspection of schools and the supervision over the isolation and release of infected persons, Durgin, S. H., 360, 396; school hygiene, 446; school hygiene, Pearmain, A. U., 522.
Scurvy. A report of two cases of infantile scurvy, Morse, J. L., 340, 345; scurvy in infants, Townsend, C. W., 509, 517.
Sears, G. G. Report on progress in thoracic diseases, 260.
Septicemia following gonorrhœa, Boyd, W. C., 214; a case of septicemia from sewer-gas, Perry, A. P., 533.
Sewer-gas. A case of septicemia from sewer-gas, Perry, A. P., 533.
Sex. Chinese methods of predicting the sex before birth, 50; procreation of sex at will, Vinhky, P. T., 315.
Sharp, L. Two interesting conditions associated with the taking of cocaine, 12.
Sherman, F. M. Adenoid vegetations, 438.
Shurly, E. L. Treatment of pulmonary consumption in hospitals, 15.
Silver, H. M. Foreign bodies in the œsophagus, 90.
Skin-Grafting. A new and original method of obtaining material for skin-grafting, Lusk, Z. J., 92.
Small-Pox. Report of cases of small-pox at the State almshouse, Tewksbury, in the spring of 1894, Nichols, J. H., 234, 244; a serious and instructive small-pox outbreak at Gloucester, England, 426; small-pox and vaccination in Guernsey, Robinson, E. L., 574.
Smith, A. A. The practice of medicine in the light of bacteriological researches, 68.
Smith, T. Conditions influencing the appearance of toxine in the cultures of the bacillus of diphtheria, 624.
Societies. Association of American Physicians, 619, 647; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 18, 192, 241, 264, 320, 366, 466, 537, 618; Boston Society of Medical Sciences, 172, 245, 372, 493; International Medical Congress, 322; Massachusetts Medical Society, 173, 614, 627, 647; Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 171, 342; Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 14; New York County Medical Association, 267; New York Neurological Society, 145, 368, 442, 540; New York State Medical Association, 67, 90; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 69, 119, 441, 492; Pan-American Medical Congress, 551; Society of American Anatomists, 114; Suffolk District Medical Society, 42, 64, 87, 143, 218, 345, 347, 394, 419, 517, 566, 596.
Standish, M. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 12.
Stanley, H. M. Mountain climbers and the perception of distance, 179.
Stark. Dental caries and tubercular cervical adenitis, 278.
Starr, N. A. Discussion of the nature and treatment of exophthalmic goitre with special reference to the thyroid theory and the question of thyroidectomy, 541.
Stedman, H. R. Report on mental disease, 615.
Stedman, J. C. An aseptic nail-cleaner for surgeons and physicians, 263; some general observations on rectal diseases, 310.
Steinway, W The horseless carriage, 354.
Stephenson, F. B Postural treatment for nocturnal enuresis, 487.
Sterility. A successful operation for sterility, Gersuny, 302.
Stillson, J. O. Complications in cataract arising from diabetes, albuminuria, etc., 16.
Stockton, C. G. A case of carcinoma ventriculi with the continued presence of free hydrochloric acid and the absence of lactic acid, 90.
Stomach. Hour-glass stomach due to cicatrization of gastric ulcer, Watson, F. S., 338, 347; the diagnosis and treatment of dilatation of the stomach, Pepper, W., and Stengel, A., 648.
Stone, A. K. Quis custodiet? 251.
Sugar as a muscle food, Hall, J. N., 127.
Suggestion. The value of suggestion in medical practice, 99.
Surgery. Recent progress in surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 402, 487, 515.
Surgical morals, Cheever, D. W., 281.
Swasey, E. Brain complications of ear disease, 357.
Syms, P. The means of eradication of tumors; the knife versus caustics, 91.
Syphilis. Four selected cases of syphilis, Tenney, B., 390, 395.
Taglıacozzi. Plastic operation of Taglıacozzi for the correction of a deformed nose, Monks, G. H., 143.
Taylor, E. W. Two cases of tumor of the brain, with autopsy, 57, 64.
Teeth. Dental caries and tubercular cervical adenitis, 278.
Tenney, B. Four selected cases of syphilis, 390, 395.
Tetanus. A case of tetanus following abortion treated by antitoxin, recovery, Withington, C. F., 53, 69.
Tewksbury. Report of cases of small-pox at the State almshouse at Tewksbury in the spring of 1894, Nichols, J. H., 234, 244; the State almshouse during twelve years of medical superintendence, Howard, H. B., 237, 241.
Thayer, W. H. Contagious pneumonia is diphtheria, 379.
Theobromine in cardiac and renal diseases, 351.
Thorndike, P. A case of stricture of the deep urethra in a syphilitic, 140, 144.
Thyroid. Graves' disease; operation, Booth, J. A., 541; discussion on the nature and treatment of exophthalmic goitre with special reference to the thyroid theory and the question of thyroidectomy, Starr, N. A., 541.
Tornado. Physician's experience with a tornado, 602.
Torticollis. The treatment of severe spasmodic torticollis, with report of cases, Coggeshall, F., 211, 220.
Townsend, C. W. Recent progress in obstetrics, 140; some statistics on weight of infants, sex and fetal heart-rate, 484, 495; scurvy in infants, a report of twelve cases, 509, 517; chlorosis, with especial reference to its treatment by intestinal antisepsis, 528, 538; remarks on the treatment of placenta previa with especial reference to the use of the intra-uterine tampon after delivery, 591, 596.
Tracy, E. A. Sugar and water as an oxytocic, 27.
Treves, F. The treatment of abdominal ptosis by laparotomy, 178.
Truax, J. G. A domestic test for albuminous urine, 67.
Tuberculosis. Dr. Maragliano's anti-tuberculous serum, Bandiera, G., 10; treatment of pulmonary consumption, Shurly, E. L., 15; the direct cause of tuberculosis, Fütterer, G., 15; an apparently new form of tuberculosis, Frothingham, L., 173; dental caries and tubercular cervical adenitis, Starck, 278; the treatment of surgical tuberculosis in children by iodoform injections, 375; pulmonary tuberculosis in the aged, 423; should the State treat tuberculosis? Parker, W. T., 427; the life insurance companies and bovine tuberculosis, 472; the prevention of tuberculosis, 546; the contagion of phthisis in the hospitals, 652.
Tumors. The value of subsequent constitutional treatment of long continued surveillance of every patient after the operation for tumors, Dennis, F. S., 91; the early detection and prompt ablation of tumors, Gouley, J. W. S., 91; the metastasis of tumors, 91; the means of eradication of tumors; the knife versus caustics, 91; the necessity of the complete extirpation of tumors and the importance of rapid cicatrization of the wound after the removal of malignant tumors in the female, Wiggin, F. H., 92; the indications of non-operative local treatment; the therapeutic value of toxines, Coley, W. B., 92; tumor of the parotid appearing in faucial region, Mixter, S. J., 137, 143; two cases of tumor of the spinal cord unaccompanied with severe pain, Bailey, P., 146.
Turck, F. B. Diseases of the mouth, nose and throat as etiological factors in chronic glandular gastritis with bacteriological studies of the pharyngeal vault, 16.
Typhoid Fever. The abortive treatment of typhoid fever, Aulde, J., 15; medicinal treatment of typhoid fever, Blech, G., 15; typhoid fever and its abortive treatment, Woodbridge, J. E., 15; the typhoid bacillus and suppuration, Muir, R., 51; typhoid fever in childhood with an analysis of two hundred and eighty-four cases, Morse, J. L., 205, 218; the treatment of typhoid fever with typhoid thymus extract, Henshaw, G. B., 477.
Umbilical cord. An unusual entanglement of the umbilical cord, Bishop, 278.
Uric acid. Some experiments upon the relation of uric acid to disease, Hills, F. L., 282, 307.
Urinary System. A domestic test for albuminous urine, Truax, J. G., 67; recent contributions to renal surgery, 70; the results obtained by examination of the air-distended bladder in females, with some remarks upon the technique and a summarized report of cases, Reynolds, E., 104, 119; a study of Haig's uric acid theory, Van Pelt, G. W., 129; a case of stricture of the deep urethra in a syphilitic, Thorndike, P., 140, 144; cases of unilateral kidney, true and false, Dwight, T., 172; Enuresis in children, Williams, H., 256; some experiments upon the relation of uric acid to disease, Hills, F. L., 282, 307; lumbar nephrectomy in anuria due to uterine cancer, Cumston, C. G., 286, 293; a case of castration for enlarged prostate and retention of urine, Homans, J., 289; theobromine in cardiac and renal diseases, 351; observations upon acquired hydronephrosis, Cabot, A. T., 405; a case of sacculated bladder, Reynolds, E., 431, 441; postural treatment for nocturnal enuresis, 487; cases illustrating renal surgery, Watson, F. S., 581; genito-urinary cases, Allen, G. W., 612, 630; a case of gangrenous cystitis, with exfoliation of the bladder wall; recovery, Warren, J. C., 641.
Vaccination. A hundred years of vaccination, 194.
Vagrants. The care of vagrants in New York City, 155.
Van Pelt, G. W. A study of Haig's uric acid theory, 129.
Vaughn, V. C. Yeast nuclein and its therapeutic uses, 17.
Vaughan, V. C., McIntosh, C. T., and Perkins, G. D. Treatment of anthrax in rabbits by intravenous injections of nucleinic acid, 625.
Vaughan, V. C., and Perkins, G. D. A toxicogenic germ found in ice cream and its chemical products, 622.
Vegetarianism and vivisection, 324.
Vinhky, P. T. Procreation of sex at will, 315.
Vital statistics of England for 1895, 601.
Vivisection. A proposed act relating to vivisection, 223; a hearing on vivisection, 248; hearing on the antivivisection bill, 274; vegetarianism and vivisection, 324; a bill to prohibit vivisection or dissection in New York public schools, 351; memorial of the Medical Association of the District of Columbia, 472; the National Academy of Sciences on the proposed legislative restriction of vivisection, 498; the American Pediatric Society and antivivisection legislation, 602; vivisection, 602; anti-vivisection in the District of Columbia, 626; Ohio State Medical Society and anti-vivisection legislation, 654.
Warren, J. C. Anatomical specimens, 44; a case of cervical rib, with operation, 258; a case of fracture of the astragalus with dislocation inward; successful reduction by incision and displacement of tendons, 391; perforating ulcer of the stomach, 400; a case of total excision of the scapula for sarcoma, 511; a case of gangrenous cystitis, with exfoliation of the bladder wall; recovery, 641.
Water. The significance of pathogenic spirilla in American surface waters, Abbott, A. C., 624; cost of impure water, 654.

Watson, F. S. Laparotomy and intestinal suture for perforating ulcer during typhoid fever, recovery, 317; hour-glass stomach due to cicatrization of gastric ulcer, 338, 347; cases illustrating renal surgery, 581.
Weeks, J. E. The emergency treatment in acute diseases of, and injuries to, the eye, 67.
Wessinger, J. A. The therapeutics of oleo-creosote and creosote carbonate, 18.
Wheat, A. F. Occiput left posterior, 614.
White, J. B. A brief contribution to the therapeutics of diabetes, 93.
White, J. C. The prevalence of germ dermatoses, 36.
White, W. A. The criminal, his social and legal status, and the philosophy of reformation, 93.
Whitney, W. F. The Gilbert murder trial; the microscope as a witness, 165, 171.
Wiener, A. Raynaud's disease, 146.
Wiggin, F. H. The necessity of the complete extirpation of tumors, and the importance of rapid cicatrization of the wound after the removal of malignant tumors in the female, 92; the technique of Maunsell's method of intestinal anastomosis, 93.
Wilder, B. G. The cerebral fissures of two philosophers, 117; the human par-occipital fissure; should it be recognized and so designated? 117.
Williams, C. E. A readily assimilated and non-irritating preparation of iron, 639.
Williams, C. H. Color testing, 1, 18; suture after cataract extraction, 383.
Williams, F. H. Quinine in malaria, 126; report on therapeutics, 593; the x-rays in the diagnosis of chest troubles, with an exhibition of a fluorescope, 621.
Williams, H. Enuresis in children, 256.
Withington, C. F. A case of tetanus following abortion, treated by antitoxin, recovery, 53, 69.
Wright, J. H. Recent progress in pathology, 168.
Wolcott, R. Address at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 615.
Woodbridge, J. E. Typhoid fever and its abortive treatment, 15.
Woodward, S. B. Two cases of central brain disease, with autopsies, 561.
Worcester, W. L. Case of acromegaly with autopsy; tumor of pituitary body, 413.
Yeast nuclein and its therapeutic uses, Vaughn, V. C., 17.
Young, E. B. A device for taking spinal tracings, 170.
Young, H. D. A shielded chromic acid applicator, 87.
X-Rays, 174.
Zymotic disease. Coexistence of two zymotic diseases in the same patient, one being latent while the other is patent, Abbot, S. L., 289.